Statement on Recycling and Recycled Products

Rowmark understands the importance of being an environmentally responsible company. Engraving laminates are highly specialized products, and have a sensitive tolerance to variations in composition. Rowmark utilizes recycled plastic when and where product specifications permit, and the waste from our manufacturing processes can be reclaimed. Plastic products manufactured and supplied by Rowmark contain pre-consumer recycled plastic when applicable.

Once a Rowmark product is consumed, it may be recycled. We encourage our customers to explore recycling options with Rowmark materials.
